Hello from Aloha Hell (again!).

Some of you might remember last year's Moon Over Diamondhead. I was a little dark to see it. I tried to get a better picture this year, and this was the best one I could get (I tried for several nights).

This is a different hotel than the one I usually get. When I open my eyes in the morning, I'm looking right out the glass doors at this crater. Unfortunately, since I get up at around 4:30AM, I can't see it.

Cheers,
G.
