Hello (see attached) from our annual Ocean City Maryland Retreat.

I was lazy this year, I just set up a camera, turned it on, and let it run.

Here is one frame every thirty seconds, played at 30 frames per second, beginning the evening of Saturday the tenth, and ending after Sunset on the following Friday:

On Friday night I used the motion detect option to catch distant lightning, and a variety of other activity:

Watch for the Moon Rise, Beach Scrapers and Garbage Collection every night, and an unlikely (at one frame every 30 seconds) flash of lightning in the distance

Great vacation and as always too short.

D&G.
